

Melinda Fitzgerald RN, MSN, CPNP-PC

Melinda Fitzgerald is a Certified Pediatric Nurse Practitioner with Mobile Care Chicago. Mobile Care Chicago is a not-for-profit organization that uses mobile medical clinics to assist children currently unable to access necessary specialty care with Asthma and Allergies. She received her Bachelor degree in Biology from Fisk University and her Master degree in Nursing at Rush College of Nursing. She has specialized in the care of children for over 20 years with experience ranging from staff nursing, to nurse practitioner in primary care and now specializing in asthma and allergy care. Her career has been dedicated to community health and working with the underserved. Through all of her experiences she remains passionate about the care of children and being a voice for the voiceless. She has been an advocate for immunizations and was honored to present a resolution before the Cook County Board of Commissioners and has been on several pediatric quality committees to assure quality metrics are met. In addition, Melinda has been a guest lecturer at Rush College of Nursing and the University of Illinois at Chicago, College of Nursing. She is currently a member of several organizations including NAPNAP, Sigma Theta Tau Nursing Honor Society, and recently became a member of ACAAI (American College of Allergy, Asthma and Immunology).
